

Andy Nelson Bio 1

As a second-generation farrier, Andy Nelson has the experience and the talents and humor to bring authenticity and entertainment to an audience. Raised in Oakley, Idaho, Andy traveled the Great Basin of southern Idaho, northern Utah and northern Nevada with his father on farrier jobs, from the time he was a child until he went off to college, and while in college at Utah State University, he continued to shoe horses for the USU Horsemanship Program. Now Andy lives in Pinedale, Wyoming, where among other things, he and his wife Jaclyn raise horses and children. Andy his farrier brother Jim, co-host the "Clear Out West (C.O.W.) Radio" weekly syndicated radio show, and the brothers are in demand as announcers at regional rodeos.

Andy Nelson Bio 2

An energetic and high-spirited cowboy poet and humorist from Pinedale, Andy offers history, heritage and hilarity of the cowboy culture through traditional poetry and storytelling. During his childhood and adolescence, Andy's greatest influence was traveling with his father to his many farrier jobs. He brings humor and authenticity to his performances, entertaining audiences across the U.S. and Canada. Andy has received the Male Poet of the Year numerous times from the Western Music Association and is the producer and co-host of the "Clear Out West (C.O.W.) Radio" weekly syndicated radio show.

Andy Nelson Bio 3

Andy Nelson is an energetic and high-spirited cowboy poet and humorist from Pinedale WY. Offering a wide range of history, heritage and hilarity of the cowboy culture through the traditional poetry of rhyme and meter and the ever-popular art of storytelling of the American cowboy. As a second-generation farrier, Andy has the experience and the talents and humor to bring authenticity and entertainment to an audience.

Andy Nelson Bio 4

An energetic and high-spirited cowboy poet and humorist originally from Oakley, Idaho, Andy offers the history, heritage and hilarity of the cowboy culture through traditional poetry and storytelling. During his childhood and adolescence, Andy's greatest influence was traveling the Great Basin with his father to his many farrier jobs. As a student, Andy shod horses for the Utah State University horsemanship program, and as an adult, he continued shoeing horses with his brother Jim. Now Andy lives in Pinedale, Wyoming, where among other things, he and his wife Jaclyn raise horses and children. Andy and his farrier brother Jim, co-host the "Clear Out West (C.O.W.) Radio" weekly syndicated radio show, and the brothers are in demand as announcers at regional rodeos.